Biography:

Born on the planet Harvest on August 12, 2511. 012 lived with his mother, father, and brother. Rebel Insurgents blew up a bomb outside the restaurant Spartan 012's family was dining in. It killed 012's entire family and wounded/ killed everyone in that restaurant. After the bombing 012 spent years in various orphanages. Then while at a orphanage Dr. Halsey selected Kangofett for the Spartan Program. He was trained with other future Spartans. After being trained 012 was amongst the first Spartans to be 'tested' into becoming a spartan. Spartan 012 (Kangofett) fought many battles and suffered some serious injures. In the battle of Reach (The Fall of Reach) Spartan 012's pelican was hit by Covenant Forces and crashed. 012 was the only survivor although his left eye was 'lost', it has seance been artificially replaced. Spartan 012 was rescued from the crash by a squad of marines and a ODST (Allison) that where evacing the planet. The ODST and Spartan 012 have seance been deployed with each other on many occasions. It seams as if there is something this ODST and Spartan 012 are keeping under wraps from the other UNSC personnel. Spartan 012 suffered the lost of his arm while shoving a grande down a Brute Chieftains Throat. Spartan 012's leg was lost after stepping on a Rebel land mine, before The Human- Covenant War. Over time Spartan 012's each member of the Skull Kings squad were Killed in Action (KIA). Spartan 012 requested to not have them replaced, due to not wanting to suffer the loss of another team. Against his request 012 moved from one squad to anther. Although 012 kept the original Skull Kings insignia no matter what squad he was in. Spartan 012 is part of ONI. 012's most resent mission was to be a informant on rebel activity for ONI. 012's was posing as a gun for hire along with a few ODSTs (Allison & Rebecca) to make him less suspicious. This was be to see if they could get ONI close to Rebel Leaders without the Rebels figuring out that ONI are tracking them. Over a long period of time they worked there way into the rebels system. They feed ONI intel on what the rebels were planing, troop locations, ect. This mission was a complete success. 012 and his crew had to separate after a rebel informant reported one of the guns for hire was a ONI informant. Seance 012 was more involved in the system the rebels suspected it was one of the women accompanying him. They where captured but escaped. After this indecent 012 continued to be a informant until ONI pulled him out. They did this so they could use him to poise as just another spartan on there prize ship, the UNSC Infinity.
